

RECIPROCAL MEMBERSHIP

Strength in Unity

Weld Australia invites strategic industry partners, associations, and aligned organisations to participate in our new Reciprocal Membership Program. This initiative is designed to create a unified alliance of key industry stakeholders, fostering greater collaboration, advocacy, and capability-building across Australia's welding and manufacturing sectors.

Through this initiative, we are offering an Associate or Affiliate level membership to organisations like yours—at no cost—enabling your members to access Weld Australia's services, resources, and national network. In return, Weld Australia members would gain reciprocal access to your association's network and programs.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- Recognition as an Associate or Affiliate Member of Weld Australia
- Access to technical resources, standards updates, and best practice guidelines
- Participation in industry forums, technical panels, and working groups
- Member pricing for training, events, and certification programs
- Opportunities for collaboration on research, innovation, and workforce development projects
- Joint advocacy campaigns and co-branded initiatives

WHY JOIN THE PROGRAM?

Strength in Unity

By aligning associations and organisations with shared interests, we can amplify our collective voice to government, regulators, and the broader community. Our combined influence is exponentially more powerful than acting in isolation.

Amplify Advocacy and Lobbying

Together, we can drive a united advocacy agenda on: building sovereign capability, promoting local industry participation in government procurement, adherence to standards and high-quality practices, and development of a skilled workforce.

Drive Local Industry Growth

With the resurgence of Australian manufacturing and infrastructure investment, now is the time to harness collective power. A coordinated alliance can shape policy, inform regulation, and influence investment decisions to favour local capability.

Share Resources and Knowledge

Partner associations and their members will gain access to Weld Australia's rich knowledge base, including technical expertise, training materials, and national and international standards.

Enhance Capability for Future Generations

A collaborative, industry-wide approach ensures that we are building sustainable capabilities, not just for today, but for the next generation of engineers, welders, manufacturers, and innovators.

Boost Visibility and Credibility

Being part of a respected alliance enhances your credibility with stakeholders, opens doors to new partnerships, and signals to government and industry that you actively contribute to Australia's industrial future.

MORE INFO

To discuss partnerships and tailor a reciprocal membership arrangement to suit your organisation, please contact: Ben Mitchell (Director, Strategic Partnerships, Weld Australia) on 0467 419 657 or b.mitchell@weldaustralia.com.au